

2023 Inspired by Nature Scholarship

sponsored by Frank S. Johnson • frankjohnson.com • writer, biologist, teacher

Poet Wendell Berry offers a definition of nature poetry as writing that “considers nature as subject matter and inspiration” (poets.org).

“The poetry of nature inspires curiosity, fosters a quest for understanding, and gives meaning where none was before.” —FSJ

Share your creativity inspired by nature, using one of the poetry genres listed below. Entries should focus on the natural world. They might illustrate a human connection with nature or describe the beautiful, inspiring, or powerful aspect of nature.

Entries will be evaluated on creativity, originality, imagery, artistic quality, and mastery of poetic expression. Sponsor may award one full $500 scholarship or partial scholarships among applicants. For example, the sponsor might award one $200 scholarship and three $100 scholarships.
